The State Rooms

Immerse yourself in imperial flair at the ALBERTINA Museum: for around 100 years, the present-day museum building served as the residence of Habsburg archdukes and archduchesses. Bearing witness to this period are the 20 sumptuously decorated and painstakingly restored Habsburg State Rooms that sweep visitors away into the magnificent world of classicism with their precious wall coverings, chandeliers, fireplaces and stoves, distinctive marquetry, and exquisite furniture.

HALL OF THE MUSES

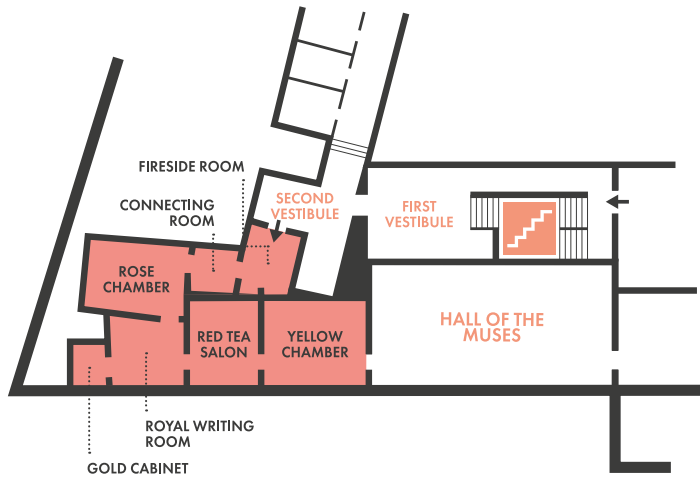

The Hall of the Muses, at an area of 177.4 m², is the magnificent centerpiece and focal point of the Habsburg State Rooms. Amidst the luster of this hall's stucco marble is space for a seated dinner for up to 120 or a standing cocktail reception for up to 200 guests, graced by statues of "Apollo and the Nine Muses".

Connected with the palace's Gentlemen's Wing and Ladies' Wing via large double doors, the Hall of the Muses affords an imposing view through all of the ALBERTINA Museum's Habsburg State Rooms.

GENTLEMEN'S WING

The State Rooms are divided into two suites of rooms: the Gentlemen's Wing on the Hofburg side of the palace, and the Ladies' Wing on the Vienna State Opera side. The rooms on the Gentlemen's Wing are suitable for small-scale receptions up to 150 guests and dinners for up to 90 guests.
